If you know of any students who have left your church and now live far away from a church, you may want to suggest that they explore on-line classes so that they can continue to experience spiritual community. If you have students who need particular accredited SOM classes and you are not offering those classes for some reason, you may want to suggest that they enroll in an on-line class with your permission. (The rule is that students who live closer than 30 miles to a UCRS church need a minister's written permission to take an on-line class.)

During the past 5 years, students from 10 countries and 24 states have taken UCRS accredited on-line classes!

Complete information about all on-line classes is listed at
