ReligiousScience.info is the online teaching ministry that I launched in January of 2003. We currently offer a basic four week introduction to the Science of Mind philosophy which is designed to help you better reach and serve the new visitors who come to your church. The basic class is designed to introduce them to the philosophy, to encourage them to attend your church, and to attend the certificated classes that you are offering. In other words, this online teaching site is designed to support YOUR ministry!

The course is taught online using the finest course delivery software available today. Students participate as they wish according to their own schedules. As a courtesy, you will be advised when someone finishes one of our basic courses.

I want to thank all of the ministers who have suggested this course to their first time visitors. I want to encourage others to do the same. Consider putting the following information in your new visitor's packet:

Religiousscience.info is an online ministry created by Rev. Dr. Larry R. Pesta (a Religious Science minister with the United Church of Religious Science) to meet the diverse needs of people who are interested in knowing more about the Religious Science philosophy founded by Dr. Ernest Holmes, the author of The Science of Mind.

We are a source of information and news, and we suggest Religious Science events. Your spiritual education is important to us, and so we specialize in offering online courses that enable you to connect with others who share the same philosophical interests. We provide resources and suggest books that will help you in your life journey.

Go to our website <http://www.religiousscience.info> to find out when the next class begins.

"The Basic Ideas of Religious Science" is a four weeks educational adventure set in a virtual classroom. The course can be taken at your own pace and on your own schedule from any location. You will want to be one of the first participants in this free online learning experience or one of the first Religious Science churches to promote it to your first time visitors.

Our goal is to offer a basic four weeks introduction to the Science of Mind philosophy which will begin each and every Wednesday. New visitors to your church can be directed to this site for immediate educational attention. Questions will be answered, terminology will be explained, a class community will be established, spiritual support will be offered, and the importance of taking certificated courses at your church site will be emphasized.
