Evocation

Pass Out Class Agreements (Practitioner II Information and Expectations)

- Were handed out at the end of each interview.
- Questions? Comments? Discussion?
- Make it clear that completing Prac II does not guarantee licensure. If questions arise regarding where you stand you will know it. There will be no surprises. Questions?
- Initial on page 2, then sign and date
- TA or volunteer make copies of those two pages for facilitator to keep – original goes back to student.

Pass Out Class Calendar/Schedule

- Questions? Emphasis on attendance.

Changes to Curriculum

- Reading in first term is required.
- After that reading is suggested, not required. Why?
- Level of consciousness has been raised – people coming into RS are more aware; by time get to Prac II already know much of it – have been practicing it.
- Need more time to develop the skills offered in the new curriculum – don't want them to be overloaded.
- You will get what you need to pass licensing exam and oral panels.
- Exams for first two terms have been removed, as they are based on reading in the workbook and texts.
- New exams are focused on licensing exam, oral panels and expectations for Practitioners at CSL.
- Will be given study guides before each exam.

- My intention is to move you through new curriculum, which will more fully equip you to become visible, active and committed CSL Practitioners.

Responsible for Own Learning

- Read what calls to you in terms II and III.
- In each class we will have time to discuss reading (workbook or texts) that peaked your interest.
- I won't ask questions about reading – you bring to class what you want to discuss.
- If no one has anything, we'll move on. Our agendas are packed.

Personal Spiritual Practice

- Important to maintain a consistent practice.
- Prac I more time given to your relationship with God.
- Less in Prac II – assumed your practice is solid - more about doing, as well as the personal transformation that is inevitable.
- Will choose prayer partners – make use of them.
- You will be expected to pray and vision about what your Call actually looks like – how will it show up in areas of service at CSL? You will create your own ministry.
- We will have check-in time where you can call upon and be nurtured by us as questions and next steps arise.

Stretching . . .

You will step out of your box in many new ways – good! Not only will you see what's possible for you, you will be a walking testimonial for everyone around you. Such is the life of a Practitioner. Welcome home!

Final questions before we close?
