

Introducing...

The Virtues Project™

We express appreciation for the permission to present the "Virtues" as a part of our Church School Curriculum from The Family Virtues Guide by Linda Kavelin Popov, Dan Popov, Ph.D. & John Kavelin.

The Family Virtues Guide is available from DeVorss Publishing, 1-800-382-6121 or www.devorss.com.

Virtues Music....

is written and performed by Jennifer Russell. Any church that has previously had our curriculum already has tapes of the Virtues music. The tapes as well as songbooks are available from DeVorss Publishing, 1-800-382-6121 or www.devorss.com.

Rev. Patricia Noble

author of The Bible Speaks to Today's Youth, presents the Bible lessons in our curriculum. She is the Senior Minister of the Science of Mind Center, Tucson, Arizona. Rev. Patricia may be contacted at (520) 319-9411. Bible stories are retold for young children. Metaphysical interpretation is presented for older children and teens along with study notes and a discussion guide.

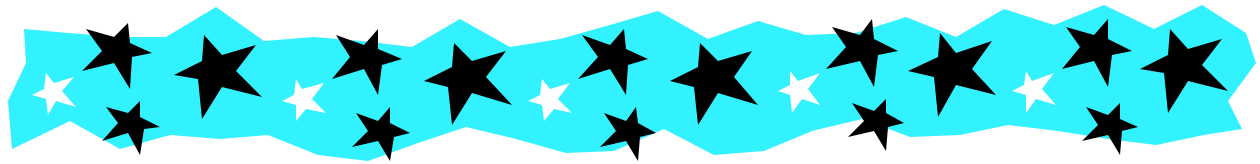

Curriculum Coordinator: Rev. Jan Blackburn

writes the story books and practical application lessons for the curriculum along with crafts, activities, etc. She is the Senior Minister of United Community Church of Religious Science, Grants Pass, Oregon. Rev. Jan may be contacted at (541) 474-0274 or spiritsd@yahoo.com.

Successful programs for youth and children depend on YOU—and we acknowledge and celebrate all of YOU who present spiritual teachings to our youth and children. It is a high calling!

Look for opportunities for the children and teens to interact with the adult congregants and the community—living the Virtues from inside-out.

Have fun! Blessings in great abundance!

Parent Page

August 2003

This is our last month of curriculum in the Global Heart Kids and Teens series.

This month we look at the Virtues (God-qualities) of Prayerfulness,
Steadfastness,
and Trust

We appreciate your loving support in the nurturing of children. We smile as we remember: children are not our future—they are our NOW!

It has been a joy and blessing to serve you this year.

Blessings in abundance!

Rev. Jan Blackburn

Reverend Jan Blackburn
Curriculum Coordinator

spiritsd@yahoo.com

